Investment policy

OP-Asia Index Fund is a passive index fund whose assets are invested in accordance with the MSCI Asia Pacific ESG Screened Net Index in equities of the largest listed companies in South-East Asia. This means that the assets of the fund are distributed in the countries and companies constituting the benchmark index in the same proportions as in the benchmark index. Since the fund strives to replicate the performance of the benchmark index as closely as possible, it will only maintain a small cash position to pay for redemptions. In order to reduce securities transactions resulting from redemptions and subscriptions, the fund may use derivatives instruments in its portfolio management to a limited extent. Since the assets of the fund are invested in equities of the largest companies by market capitalisation, its investments may be concentrated significantly in certain sectors, such as financials and industrials. The Fund's trading costs are relatively low as changes to the portfolio are basically only made in conjunction with index adjustments.

The Fund promotes environmental and social characteristics by considering investments' ESG factors as part of the investment process and through the exclusion of certain investment options. For more information about the ESG methods used, see the fund prospectus. The principle of 'do no significant harm' is only applied to those investments included in the fund which integrate the EU's criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The EU's criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities are not integrated in terms of other investments included in this fund.
