CARGO INSURANCE, INTERNATIONAL CLAUSES

Structure of insurance terms

The policy consists of Institute Cargo Clauses (IC), General Terms of Contract of Cargo Insurance (CC), and Additional Cover of Institute Cargo Clauses (AC 720 - 730). The insurance can by separate agreement be made to include the War and Strikes Clauses (WS) and other common institute clauses (AC 740-773). Cargo Insurance, International Clauses (KU 07) consists of the following terms and conditions:

- IC Institute Cargo Clauses
- WS War and Strikes Clauses
- CC General Terms of Contract of Cargo Insurance
- AC Additional clauses to cargo insurance and other common institute clauses

Application of insurance terms and conditions

These cargo insurance terms and conditions shall apply, unless otherwise agreed, to companies' and entrepreneurs' deliveries from Finland to abroad, and within and between foreign countries.

These terms and conditions can be deviated from if separately agreed upon and marked down in the insurance policy or agreement.

IC 1 Purpose of Insurance

IC 2 Object of Insurance

2.1 This policy covers transports and merchandise or other specified piece of property or benefit referred to in the insurance contract or policy.

2.2 The policy is valid only for transports using vehicles or equipment approved by the authorities for traffic use or goods delivery (see clauses 6.2.4 and 707).

2.3 Unless otherwise agreed, the policy is not valid for towing or barge transportation.

2.4 Unless otherwise agreed, the policy is not valid for

- cash, other means of payment and securities

- live animals.

IC 3 Insurance coverage

Depending on the extent of the policy, the terms applied for this cargo insurance can be either

- Basic Conditions, Institute Cargo Clauses (C) or
- Full Conditions, Institute Cargo Clauses (A)

The insurance coverage is specified in the policy.

Unless otherwise agreed, the insurance is valid under BASIC CONDITIONS (INSTITUTE CARGO CLAUSES (C), (see item 700)) when the object of the insurance is:

- forwarding, provided the preceding transport was not insured by Pohjola Insurance
- bulk cargo
- goods carried by land on an open conveyance outside of Finland,
- deck cargo.

Deck cargo is not considered to include goods carried in a box container, box trailer or box van. A conveyance or container equipped with a removable tarpaulin cover is not considered a box container, box trailer or box van.

If separately agreed, the policy may also include a War and Strikes Insurance to which a separate set of terms and conditions is applied (WS).

IC 4 Special Corporate Insurance Additional Insurance

No compensation is made under the insurance if compensation liability is based on forwarding, warehousing or transport operations or the Road Transport Agreement Act, similar foreign acts, the CMR Convention or another Finnish or foreign act, regulation or agreement related to a mode of transport, or the forwarder's liability in accordance with the General Conditions of the Nordic Association of Freight Forwarders.

Where, as a result of the operation of a risk covered by this insurance, the insured transit is terminated at a port or place other than that to which the subject-matter insured is covered under this insurance, the Insurers will reimburse the Assured for any extra charges properly and reasonably incurred in unloading storing and forwarding the subject-matter insured to the destination to which it is insured.
- This Clause 12, which does not apply to general average or salvage charges, shall be subject to the exclusions contained in Clauses 4, 5, 6 and 7 above, and shall not include charges arising from the fault negligence insolvency or financial default of the Assured or their employees.

No claim for Constructive Total Loss shall be recoverable hereunder unless the subject-matter insured is reasonably abandoned either on account of its actual total loss appearing to be unavoidable or because the cost of recovering, reconditioning and forwarding the subject-matter insured to the destination to which it is insured would exceed its value on arrival.

Increased Value

14. 14.1 If any Increased Value insurance is effected by the Assured on the subject-matter insured under this insurance the agreed value of the subject-matter insured shall be deemed to be increased to the total amount insured under this insurance and all Increased Value insurances covering the loss, and liability under this insurance shall be in such proportion as the sum insured under this insurance bears to such total amount insured.

- 15.2 shall not extend to or otherwise benefit the carrier or other bailee.

Minimising losses

Duty of Assured

- 16. It is the duty of the Assured and their employees and agents in respect of loss recoverable hereunder
 - 16.1 to take such measures as may be reasonable for the purpose of averting or minimising such loss, and
 - 16.2 to ensure that all rights against carriers, bailees or other third parties are properly preserved and exercised
- and the Insurers will, in addition to any loss recoverable hereunder, reimburse the Assured for any charges properly and reasonably incurred in pursuance of these duties.

Waiver

- 17. Measures taken by the Assured or the Insurers with the object of saving, protecting or recovering the subject-matter insured shall not be considered as a waiver or acceptance of abandonment or otherwise prejudice the rights of either party.

Avoidance of delay

- 18. It is a condition of this insurance that the Assured shall act with reasonable despatch in all circumstances within their control.

Law and practice

- 19. This insurance is subject to English law and practice.

NOTE: Where a continuation of cover is requested under Clause 9, or a change of destination is notified under Clause 10, there is an obligation to give prompt notice to the Insurers and the right to such cover is dependent upon compliance with this obligation.

Termination of Contract of Carriage

9. If owing to circumstances beyond the control of the Assured either the contract of carriage is terminated at a port or place other than the destination named therein or the transit is otherwise terminated before unloading of the subject-matter insured as provided for in Clause 8 above, then this insurance shall also terminate unless prompt notice is given to the Insurers and continuation of cover is requested when this insurance shall remain in force, subject to an additional premium if required by the Insurers, either
 - 9.1 until the subject-matter insured is sold and delivered at such port or place, or, unless otherwise specially agreed, until the expiry of 60 days after arrival of the subject-matter insured at such port or place, whichever shall first occur, or

Change of Voyage

10. 10.1 Where, after attachment of this insurance, the destination is changed by the Assured, this must be notified promptly to Insurers for rates and terms to be agreed. Should a loss occur prior to such agreement being obtained cover may be provided but only if cover would have been available at a reasonable commercial market rate on reasonable market terms.
- 10.2 Where the subject-matter insured commences the transit contemplated by this insurance (in accordance with Clause 8.1), but, without the knowledge of the Assured or their employees the ship sails for another destination, this insurance will nevertheless be deemed to have attached at commencement of such transit.

- This Clause 12, which does not apply to general average or salvage charges, shall be subject to the exclusions contained in Clauses 4, 5, 6 and 7 above, and shall not include charges arising from the fault negligence insolvency or financial default of the Assured or their employees.

Constructive Total Loss

13. No claim for Constructive Total Loss shall be recoverable hereunder unless the subject-matter insured is reasonably abandoned either on account of its actual total loss appearing to be unavoidable or because the cost of recovering, reconditioning and forwarding the subject-matter insured to the destination to which it is insured would exceed its value on arrival.

Increased Value

14. 14.1 If any Increased Value insurance is effected by the Assured on the subject-matter insured under this insurance the agreed value of the subject-matter insured shall be deemed to be increased to the total amount insured under this insurance and all Increased Value insurances covering the loss, and liability under this insurance shall be in such proportion as the sum insured under this insurance bears to such total amount insured.
- In the event of claim the Assured shall provide the Insurers with evidence of the amounts insured under all other insurances.
- 14.2 Where this insurance is on Increased Value the following clause shall apply:
- The agreed value of the subject-matter insured shall be deemed to be equal to the total amount insured under the primary insurance and all Increased Value insurances covering the loss and effected on the subject-matter insured by the Assured, and liability under this insurance shall be in such proportion as the sum insured under this insurance bears to such total amount insured.
- In the event of claim the Assured shall provide the Insurers with evidence of the amounts insured under all other insurances.

Benefit of Insurance

15. This insurance
- 15.1 covers the Assured which includes the person claiming indemnity either as the person by or on whose behalf the contract of insurance was effected or as an assignee,
- 15.2 shall not extend to or otherwise benefit the carrier or other bailee.

Minimising losses

Duty of Assured

16. It is the duty of the Assured and their employees and agents in respect of loss recoverable hereunder
- 16.1 to take such measures as may be reasonable for the purpose of averting or minimising such loss, and
- 16.2 to ensure that all rights against carriers, bailees or other third parties are properly preserved and exercised and the Insurers will, in addition to any loss recoverable hereunder, reimburse the Assured for any charges properly and reasonably incurred in pursuance of these duties.

Waiver

17. Measures taken by the Assured or the Insurers with the object of saving, protecting or recovering the subject-matter insured shall not be considered as a waiver or acceptance of abandonment or otherwise prejudice the rights of either party.

Avoidance of delay

18. It is a condition of this insurance that the Assured shall act with reasonable despatch in all circumstances within their control.

Law and practice

19. This insurance is subject to English law and practice.

NOTE: Where a continuation of cover is requested under Clause 9, or a change of destination is notified under Clause 10, there is an obligation to give prompt notice to the Insurers and the right to such cover is dependent upon compliance with this obligation.

5.1.2 terminates, subject to 5.2 and 5.3 below, either as the subject-matter insured and as to any part as that part is discharged from an oversea vessel at the final port or place of discharge, or

on expiry of 15 days counting from midnight of the day of arrival of the vessel at the final port or place of discharge, whichever shall first occur; nevertheless, subject to prompt notice to the Insurers and to an additional premium, such insurance

WS 708 Validity of War and Strike Clauses in High War Risk Areas

War and strike insurance is not valid in high war risk areas unless otherwise agreed with the insurance company in advance.

The validity of insurance cover in these areas must be agreed individually for each shipment with the insurance company, and the insurance company must be contacted at least three days before the beginning of shipment. The insurance company must be notified of the shipment's value, terms of delivery and planned route. If the insurance is granted to a high war risk area, the insurance company may charge an additional premium according to the assessed level of risk.

High war risk areas refer to areas whose risk level for war or strikes is rated 3.2 or higher by the JCC Cargo Watchlist compiled by the Joint Cargo Committee. The list is published on IHS Markit's website and is updated monthly.

The updated list of risk levels is located at: JCC Cargo Watchlist https://watchlists.ihsmarkit.com/services/watchlistinspector.aspx?watchlist_id=a661e336-c342-4965-b1e7-70980edf8cc2

By insurance company we refer to Pohjola Insurance Ltd.

The insurance period is the agreed time indicated in the insurance contract or policy during which the insurance is valid. A continuous contract continues for one agreed insurance period at a time, unless either party terminates the contract.

The total sum insured consists of the combined insurable value of goods for the insurance period (see 3.2 and 9.3).

The premium period is the period for which a premium is paid as agreed.

An insurance event is an event for which compensation is paid under the insurance.

A safety regulation is an obligation by the policyholder or insured to observe instructions specified in the insurance contract, insurance policy or insurance terms and conditions, or otherwise written down, aimed at preventing or restricting the occurrence of loss.

Marine insurance refers to cargo insurance against risks the insured goods may be subjected to during sea transport. If any leg of the transport is in fact or is intended to be by sea, the entire transport is considered a sea transport.

Other cargo insurance refers to cargo insurance against the risk the insured goods may be subjected to during transport other than sea transport.

Insured goods refer to merchandise specified in the insurance contract or policy that is subject to transport or storage, or other property specified in the contract.

Storage refers to storage that is directly connected to regular transport.

By entrepreneur we refer to a natural or legal person who is engaged in profession or business to earn income or make a profit.

By container we refer to a freight container, flat rack or similar transport unit.

By merchandise we refer to an invoiced product or commodity which is intended for trading, being transported or stored in connection with transportation.

CC 2 Disclosure of information prior to concluding the insurance contract

2.1 Insurance company's disclosure obligation

Before a continuous insurance policy is given out, the insurance company provides the policyholder with the necessary information – such as the company's insurance types, premiums and insurance terms and conditions – to evaluate insurance needs and to help choose a suitable product.

Policyholders who have chosen insurance for a fixed period or for a single transit will be informed of the insurance terms and conditions and premiums before the insurance attaches.

2.2 Policyholder's disclosure obligation

By policyholder we herein mean not only the insured but also a representative of the policyholder or the insured.

Prior to the insurance being granted, the policyholder and the insured shall provide correct and adequate information on all issues that may be relevant to the assessment of Pohjola Insurance's liability, such as information on the company's line of business, goods and their value, and susceptibility of damage, transportation, means of transport and claims history. During the validity of the insurance period, policyholders must also correct without undue delay any information provided to the insurance company that they have found to be erroneous or deficient.

If the policyholder has neglected his obligation to disclose information, the insurance contract will not bind the insurance company, or the insurance company may decide to lower or altogether decline compensation. Before making a decision on the consequences, it must first be established to what extent the erroneous or deficient information provided by the policyholder contributed to the loss. In addition to the above, the insurance company has the right, under 18.3, to terminate the contract.

If the policyholder has acted in bad faith, the insurance company has the right to withhold all premiums paid, even if the insurance has been annulled or terminated before the end of the insurance period.

CC 3 Insurable value and sum insured

3.1 Insurable value

3.1.1 Merchandise

- invoiced amount
- freight costs that are the responsibility of the insured, unless they are included in the invoice
- added by 10% of the total value of the above.

3.1.2 Other than merchandise

The insurable value is, unless otherwise agreed,

- the market value
- added by freight costs that are the on the responsibility of the insured

The market value is the value of goods when put on the market in the place and on the date the insurance enters into force.

If there is no observable market value, the insurable value is the absorption cost of the goods. The absorption cost is the cost of manufacturing without sales profit or the goods' purchase price in the place and on the date the insurance enters into force.

The insurable value is the absorption cost, unless otherwise agreed, in the following shipments:

- internal shipments between the policyholder's operating premises
- shipments from/to subcontractors.

3.2 Sum insured

The sum insured must be set at the insurable value.

The sum insured is based on the policyholder's own notification and the insurance company will not be responsible if the sum does not correspond with the actual total sums insured for the shipments. The insurance company is under no obligation to check the correctness of the notification of the sum insured.

However, the sum insured can be separately agreed upon with the insurance company. The sum insured is binding to both parties unless the insurance company can prove that compensation paid on its basis would be considerably higher than necessary to cover the costs.

CC 4 Maximum liability

The maximum amount of compensation paid by the insurer for any one vehicle, transit or immediate storage is the maximum total sum insured of the goods transported, as specified in the insurance contract or policy. Moreover, the maximum liability is also the insurance company's maximum indemnification liability, unless otherwise specified in the insurance terms and conditions.

CC 5 Overinsurance and underinsurance

Property is overinsured if its sum insured is higher than its insurable value.

Property is underinsured if its sum insured is lower than its insurable value.

See clause 15.9 for compensation practices in cases of under- and overinsurance.

CC 6 Beginning of insurance company's liability and validity of insurance contract

6.1 Commencement of insurance company's liability

The insurance company's liability commences on a date agreed by the parties. If no commencement date has been agreed, the insurance company's liability will begin as soon as the policyholder or the insurance company has issued or sent an affirmative reply to the offer of the other contracting party.

An insurance application or an affirmative reply which the policyholder has submitted or sent to the insurance company's representative is considered to have been submitted or sent to the insurance company.

If it is unclear what time of day the reply was issued or sent, it is considered to have taken place at midnight.

6.2 Validity of insurance contract

The insurance contract is continuous unless otherwise agreed. A continuous insurance contract is valid for one insurance period at a time until either party terminates it in writing at least one month before its expiry date.

A fixed-term insurance contract is valid for the agreed period. An insurance contract for a single transit is valid for the duration of a specified transit.

If either party terminates the agreement either on the basis of clauses 18.2-18.4 or some other clause in the contract, the insurance shall nevertheless cover all transport that started during the validity of this contract. Unless otherwise agreed, insurance cover for other risks, such as storage, ends upon the expiry of the contract at the latest.

CC 7 Transportation and storage included in the insurance contract

The insurance contract applies to the transport and storage of goods in the policyholder's line of operation and business that are specified in the insurance contract.

Unless otherwise agreed, the insurance contract will nevertheless not apply to the carrier's shipments for which no bill of lading, consignment note or other documentation of carriage or electronic registration exists.

7.1 In order for a single transit to be included in an insurance contract, the transit must begin during the contract's validity and the policyholder must, in accordance with the sales agreement, terms of delivery or other contract that was made before transport,

- carry the risk for damage to cargo or
- be obliged to take out cargo insurance for the benefit of the other party.

However, the insurance contract does not include shipments in which the insurance obligation lies with the sales counterparty or other party to the contract (for example when the goods are purchased under CIF or CIP conditions or equivalent).

7.2 If it has been specifically agreed with the insurance company, the insurance contract may include all shipments related to the policyholder's line of operation and business, regardless of which party to the sale carries the risk or has the obligation to take out insurance under the sales agreement, terms of delivery or other agreement made before transport.

7.3 Goods bought during transit will be included in the insurance contract as soon as the risk for the goods or the obligation to insure has been transferred to the policyholder, provided the arrangement has been agreed in advance between the insurance company and policyholder.

7.4 The date of the shipment's first bill of lading, mate's receipt, consignment note or other equivalent document or electronic registration determines whether the transport otherwise covered by the insurance contract actually began during the validity of the contract. If the document date deviates from the date when the liability is to begin as specified in the cargo insurance terms and conditions, the inception date in the terms and conditions takes precedence.

7.5 Transport or storage included in the insurance contract may not be removed, even in part, from the contract afterwards, even if the buyer, seller, forwarder or some other party had insured the goods by taking out some other insurance.

CC 8 Insurance premium

8.1 Determining the amount of insurance premium

Insurance premiums are determined on the basis of the principles confirmed in the insurance contract or policy based on, for example, the total sum insured of shipments during the insurance period, the company's net sales, or the sum insured of an individual shipment. If the basis for payment has not been agreed upon, cargo insurance is priced case by case.

If the insurance premium is less than the minimum sum specified in the insurance contract, it equals the minimum sum.

Unless they are included in the insurance premiums, statutory insurance premium taxes or fees are charged in addition to the premiums.

The policyholder must provide the necessary information within the time specified by the insurance company in order to calculate the premium. If the information arrives late, the insurance company may calculate the premium using the previous insurance period's information.

Using an accountant authorised by the Central Chamber of Commerce, the insurance company is entitled to obtain information on the policyholder's accounts and documents to the extent that is relevant concerning the policyholder's obligations.

8.2 Premium payment

Premiums must be paid by the due date. If the amount of payment made by the policyholder is not sufficient to cover all of the amounts of insurance company's premiums outstanding, the insurance company has the right to decide for which outstanding premium the money will be used.

8.3 Delayed premium

If a premium has not been paid on the due date, the insurance company has the right to terminate the insurance contract in 14 days from the dispatch of the notice of termination.

Any overdue insurance premium payment is subject to late payment interest under the Interest Act.

8.4 Insurance premium refund

If a continuous insurance contract terminates before the date agreed, the insurance company is entitled to the premium only for the period which it provided cover for. If the insurance premium is primarily determined by a factor other than time, such as the total sum insured of completed shipments, the insurance company's entitlement to the premium is calculated on this basis. The rest of the premium paid is returned to the policyholder, but the insurance company has the right to deduct reasonable expenses incurred from making the insurance contract and returning the premium.

However, no premium is returned if the amount is the minimum sum or less.

The premium for the insurance period will not be refunded if compensation paid during the insurance period amounts to

- the entire sum insured or
- the object of insurance in full.

Neither will the insurance premium be returned if the insured or policyholder has acted in bad faith in situations referred to in clauses 2.2, 9.2 and 18.3.

8.5 Setoff against premiums to be refunded

The insurance company may deduct the policyholder's overdue premiums and other outstanding amounts referred to in the insurance contract from the premium to be refunded.

CC 9 Disclosure of information during validity of contract

9.1 Insurance company's disclosure obligation

Upon entering into an insurance contract, the insurance company issues the policyholder with the terms and conditions of insurance and the contract plus the insurance contract and certificate or policy. If the policyholder has been informed about the extent of the insurance cover owing to previous customer relationship, the documents will only be sent upon request.

During the validity of the insurance, the insurance company will notify the policyholder in writing about any insurance-related matters of obvious relevance to the policyholder.

9.2 Obligation of the policyholder and insured to disclose information on increased risk

Following the conclusion of the insurance contract, the policyholder or the insured shall inform the insurance company without delay of any material change in the circumstances or state of affairs entered in the policy or insurance contract that may increase risk, which the insurance company could not be regarded as having taken into consideration at the time of concluding the insurance contract.

These may include risk-increasing changes in the company's industry, business, corporate structure, goods shipped, method and area of transport. Increased risk may result in reviewing the insurance validity, the terms and conditions and premiums.

If the policyholder or the insured neglects this obligation, the indemnity may be reduced or disallowed. The effect of the changed, risk-increasing circumstance on the occurrence of the loss or damage is taken into account when considering whether to reduce or disallow the compensation.

9.3 Policyholder's obligation to disclose the total sum insured or net sales used as basis for premium

The policyholder must inform the insurance company, in a manner specified in the contract, of the following that are used as a basis for shipment and/or storage premiums included in the contract:

- the total sum insured of the goods during the insurance period. As to merchandise, the total sum insured must include the invoiced value and the freight costs that are the responsibility of the insured, unless they are already included in the invoice added by 10% of the total value of the above if the insurance is for the benefit of the buyer (see also insurable value under clause 3.2). For other than merchandise, the total sum insured to be given is its market price or cost price plus freight costs or
- the company's net sales.

If the policyholder has not engaged in any goods transport or storage referred to in the contract, this must be reported too.

9.4 Policyholders disclosure obligation when the insurance period changes

9.4.1 Continuous insurance contract without balance procedure

The insurance company will charge the premium for each insurance period on the basis of a preliminary estimate calculated from the confirmed payment bases. The key figures (total sum insured or net sales) used as premium bases may be reviewed at the change of the insurance period to correspond with the general rise in prices and expenses, in a manner specified separately by the insurance company. The policyholder is responsible for ensuring that the above key figures reflect the actual total sums insured and net sales.

9.4.2 Continuous insurance with balance procedure

The insurance company will charge the premium for each insurance period on the basis of a preliminary estimate calculated from the confirmed payment bases. The key figure (total sum insured or net sales) used as the basis for the premium is either a preliminary estimate of the upcoming insurance period or the key figure reported for the previous insurance period.

After the end of the insurance period, the advance premium will be balanced to correspond with the figures reported for the past insurance period, resulting in either a refund or an extra charge.

The policyholder must inform the insurance company within two months after the end of the insurance period of the actual key figure used as the premium basis in order for the insurance company to calculate the final amount.

The policyholder shall provide the insurance company two months before the beginning of the following insurance period with the estimated key figures for the assessment of premiums for the following insurance period. Should the policyholder fail to do so within the specified time, the insurance company will charge the advance premium on the basis of the previous insurance period's key figure.

If the policyholder does not provide the insurance company with the actual or predicted key figures, the insurance company has the right to charge what it considers to be a reasonable premium.

9.4.3 Policyholders who wilfully or through more than minor negligence either fail to disclose an instance of transport or storage referred to in the insurance contract or provide false, misleading or incomplete information about them may result in the indemnity being reduced or disallowed.

CC 10 Responsibilities of the policyholder and insured to prevent damage, and measures if damage has occurred

10.1 Responsibility to follow safety regulations

The policyholder and insured must observe the safety regulations recorded in the insurance contract, policy, terms and conditions or otherwise issued in writing. If the policyholder or the insured fail to do so, the indemnity may be reduced or disallowed. The effect of said failure on the occurrence or extent of the loss or damage is taken into account when considering whether to reduce or disallow the indemnity.

10.2 Measures if damage is impending or has occurred

The policyholder or insured must

10.2.1 inspect the goods externally to assess their condition and number or amount of items.

10.2.2 file a written report to the cargo carrier on the damage, the carrier's representative or other party responsible for the damage before acknowledging receipt of the goods or, if the damage cannot be immediately verified, as soon as it has been detected, considering all the relevant deadlines referred to in legislation and the carriage terms and conditions.

10.2.3 take any other prompt measures to secure the insurance company's right, once the damage has been indemnified, to demand compensation from whoever can be considered responsible for the damage

10.2.4 contact the police without delay if a crime is suspected

10.2.5 if necessary, stop the unpacking of the goods or their discharge from the vehicle or container to determine the factors that have contributed to the type of damage

10.2.6 take care of the damaged goods and inform the insurance company or its representative immediately about the damage, and follow any instructions given

10.2.7 provide the insurance company with an opportunity to check the goods.

Even if goods are damaged, the policyholder or insured will not be entitled to refuse to accept them.

10.3 Responsibility for preventing and mitigating damage

10.3.1 If damage is imminent, the policyholder or insured must make every effort to prevent it, or if damage has occurred, the policyholder or insured must mitigate it in order to ensure that the damaged goods cannot cause any further damage to the shipment. The policyholder and insured must observe all instructions given by the insurance company or its representative aimed at preventing and mitigating loss or damage.

10.3.2 The insurance company will compensate any reasonable and necessary expenses incurred due to the damage prevention and mitigation, even if the sum insured would be exceeded.

10.3.3 Measures taken by the policyholder, insured or insurance company to save, protect or retrieve the goods do not affect the right to claim for compensation or the insurance company's final indemnification liability.

10.4 Consequences of neglecting responsibilities

If the policyholder or the insured has neglected any of the above responsibilities, the indemnity can be reduced or disallowed. The effect of such a failure on the occurrence or extent of the loss or damage or making the party that caused the damage or loss indemnifiable for it is taken into account when considering whether to reduce or disallow the compensation.

CC 11 Causing an insurance event

11.1 The insurance company will be free from liability if the policyholder or insured has caused the insurance event deliberately.

11.2 The insurance company may reduce or altogether disallow compensation if

11.2.1 the policyholder or insured has caused the insurance event through gross negligence or

11.2.2 use of alcohol or other intoxicant by the policyholder or insured has contributed to the insurance event.

The effect of the policyholder's or insured's action on the occurrence of the loss or damage is also taken into account when considering whether the compensation related to clauses 11.2.1 and 11.2.2 is to be reduced or disallowed in the abovementioned cases. In addition, the type of negligence of the policyholder and insured and other circumstances will be taken into account.

CC 12 Identification

What is said under clauses 9, 10, 11, 14, 17 and 18 about the policyholder, insured or claimant refers, whenever applicable, to

- their employees
- those who they are responsible for, or
- those who act as their representatives.

CC 13 Entitlement to compensation

13.1 The right to compensation is held by those who

- under the sales agreement, terms of delivery or other agreement made before the shipment began carry the risk for damage to the goods during transit at the time of loss or
- present a duly transferred insurance policy or
- can otherwise present reasonable documentation to claim compensation.

The insurance company has the right to pay compensation to anyone presenting a duly transferred insurance policy and thereby discharged itself from liability. The insurance company is entitled to receive back the insurance policy against payment of indemnification.

13.2 The claimant must present written documentation – such as an invoice or sales agreement containing the terms of delivery or other equivalent condition – stating that he is entitled to compensation on the grounds above or directly by law as pledgee etc.

13.3 If the policyholder has concluded a contract with the insurance company to insure all shipped goods regardless of the policyholder's risk or its obligation to insure, compensation may be paid to the policyholder even if the latter did not carry the risk of damaged goods at the time of loss. If the insurance was valid at the time of loss under terms of delivery CIF or CIP (Incoterms® 2020) for the benefit of the buyer or other party entitled to compensation, the policyholder must, before payment of compensation, present written permission from the party entitled to compensation for the transfer of the rights for the policyholder's benefit.

13.4 The insurance is not directly or indirectly valid for the benefit of the carrier or any other party to whom the goods had been entrusted or who performs duties related to the insured cargo.

CC 14 Claims settlement procedure

14.1 Duties of claimant

14.1.1 Any damage or loss must be promptly reported to the insurance company to allow it to inspect the goods.

14.1.2 Claimants must submit to the insurance company all reports and documents that may be relevant to determine the liability for compensation and any amount thereof. Such documents and information include a regular shipping document, commercial invoice, complaint, inspection report, abstract of title or other document to ascertain whether the insurance event is actually indemnifiable, what the amount of damage or loss is and who the beneficiary is.

The insurance company is not required to pay compensation before it has received the above documentation.

14.1.3 If the policyholder, insured or other claimant has, after the insurance event, fraudulently provided the insurance company with incorrect or incomplete information relevant to investigating the insurance event and assessing the insurance company's liability, the indemnity may be reduced or disallowed.

14.2 Insurance company's indemnification obligation

14.2.1 The insurance company will pay compensation in accordance with the insurance contract within a month from having received a detailed claim. If not all of the reports and documents that may be relevant to decide on the amount of indemnification have not been attached to the claim, the insurance company will pay the compensation no later than one month from the receipt of such documents and information.

14.2.2 If, for reasons beyond the policyholder's control, the delay of documents is unreasonable, compensation will be paid for the amount on which can be conclusively decided on the basis of the available documents.

14.2.3 If compensation is not paid within the above time, an annual penalty interest calculated as prescribed in the Interest Act must be paid from the date onwards when compensation should have been paid.

14.3 Limitation on right to receive compensation

The claimant must file a written claim with the insurance company, conforming with the insurance contract, no later than six months from the date that he became aware of the loss or damage. If the claim is not submitted within this time, the insurance company will be discharged from liability and the right for compensation will be lost.

14.4 Payment made to wrong person

If the insurance company pays compensation to other than who has the legal right to it, the insurance company has nevertheless fulfilled its obligation provided it has exercised due care in the circumstances.

14.5 Setoff against compensation

The insurance company may deduct from the compensation any of the policyholder's overdue premiums and other overdue receivables referred to in the insurance contract.

CC 15 Compensation

15.1 Calculation of compensation

Compensation will be paid for direct cost or loss caused by material damage up to the sum insured, with deductions and restrictions in the insurance contract and terms and conditions, and herein (see clauses 15.6–15.9). Compensation may consist of repair costs, reduction of value or the amount of the sum insured corresponding to the damage, depending on which option is the most appropriate.

15.2 Sum insured or part thereof paid as compensation

15.2.1 The compensation will be the sum insured or part thereof, when the goods, as a result of an event covered by the policy,

- have disappeared or been destroyed entirely or damaged to the extent that the original properties are completely lost, or
- have ended in a state from which they cannot be re-deemed with reasonable cost within six months.

Goods are considered to have become lost

- when they, as a result of an event covered by the policy, have not arrived at their destination within 60 days of the agreed or estimated arrival date of the insured shipment and there is no knowledge of its whereabouts, or alternatively, if the entire vehicle or container has disappeared, within 90 days of the agreed or estimated arrival date of the insured shipment
- the vehicle has been abandoned and the goods in it have not been found within the above time limits, or

- the goods have not been found within 60 days of the shipment's estimated arrival date and the carrier or any other party to whom the goods have been entrusted admits in writing that the goods have been lost.

15.2.2 If the insurance company has compensated the insurable value of the goods, the insurance company may exercise its right to decide over the indemnified goods.

15.3 Repair costs

If the damaged item can be restored to its condition prior to the damage or to equivalent condition by repairing it or replacing damaged parts with original or equivalent parts, only these costs will be indemnified.

There will be no compensation for any additional costs arising from non-standard repair methods chosen by the policyholder or any overtime compensation or charge for express service related to such a course of action.

15.4 Compensation for shortage or leak (see extension to basic cover, clauses IC 702.6 and IC 702.7)

When calculating compensation for shortage or leak, the compensation will be deducted with an agreed amount of the merchandise or an amount which is typical reduction of the merchandise, but no less than 0.5% of the insured shipment's total sum insured.

15.5 Value depreciation

In other cases, the value depreciation of the goods is determined, unless otherwise agreed, either through a joint inspection conducted by the parties or, if necessary, by means of an official inspection following the procedure prescribed in the Maritime Act (674/1994), or if the value depreciation cannot be determined by such means, by selling the goods. If the insurance company so requires, the goods must be sold through public auction.

The value depreciation is expressed as a percentage by comparing the damaged goods' market value at the destination with the market value of undamaged goods at the destination. The market value constitutes the gross market value – that is, it includes freight, customs duties and other charges – and the same items are included in both figures compared.

The compensation corresponds to the reduction in insurable value or, if the sum insured is lower than the insurable value, in the sum insured.

15.6 Insurance company's maximum liability per transit and/or storage

The insurance company will be liable for the insured goods per each vehicle, journey or storage up to the maximum amount entered in the agreement.

If the combined insurable value of shipped goods under the same policy either in the same storage facility or in the same vehicle exceeds the maximum liability in the agreement, underinsurance clauses will be applied to determine the amount of compensation (see clause 15.9).

The insurance company will be liable for the part in excess of the maximum amount only if insuring it has been agreed upon prior to shipment.

15.7 Sum insured as the maximum amount of indemnity

The sum insured (clause 3.2) is the maximum amount of compensation per each vehicle, transit or storage, as defined in the insurance contract or policy.

The insurance company will nevertheless compensate any reasonable and necessary expenses incurred in the process of preventing an imminent threat and mitigating any damage, even if the sum insured were thus exceeded.

The sum insured may also be exceeded if the insurance indemnifies against a general average sacrifice, contribution or expense or related rescue expenses, and the goods become liable for indemnification later during the same shipment as a result of another indemnifiable loss.

15.8 Deductible

The amount of deductible is specified in the policy for each insurance event (see also 15.4).

15.9 Overinsurance and underinsurance

If the goods have been overinsured (clause 5), the insurance company will only indemnify against the insured damage up to the correct insurable value.

If the goods have been underinsured (clause 5), the insurance company will only indemnify the insured damage up to the difference between the sum insured and the correct insurable value.

This clause is also applied when indemnifying expenses referred to herein and in connection with general average contribution or expense. If the amount of indemnification for expenses or contributions has been too high owing to calculations based on underinsurance, the policyholder must refund the excess amount to the insurance company.

15.10 Double insurance

If more than one insurance company has issued insurance for the same goods and against the same damage, each of them will be liable to pay compensation as if they had alone issued the insurance. If the interest, with the policies combined, is overinsured, the party entitled to compensation cannot nevertheless receive compensation from the policies in excess of the amount of damage.

If more than one insurance company is liable to pay compensation for the same damage and the combined liabilities exceed the amount of compensation payable to the insured, the liability will be divided between the insurance companies in proportion to their liabilities.

If the goods are also insured by another insurance company, one which has set a condition that discharges itself from liability in part or full in case of double insurance, the same condition will also apply to the insurance issued by Pohjola Insurance Ltd.

CC 16 Insurance company's right of recovery

16.1 Insurance company's right of recovery vis-à-vis third party

When the insurance company has paid compensation for any loss or damage, the injured party's right to recover compensation for the loss or damage from a third party is subrogated to the insurer in an equal amount.

If the policyholder or insured, through an agreement made either prior to the damage or after it, has given up its right towards the third party, the insurance company will be released from liability by an equal amount.

16.2 Insurance company's right of recovery against the policyholder, the insured or a person comparable to the insured

The insurance company may demand back any compensation or part thereof from the policyholder, insured or the party they are liable for if such a party has

- caused the insurance event
- neglected its obligation to disclose information upon conclusion of the agreement
- neglected its obligation to inform about increased risk
- neglected its obligation to follow the safety regulations or
- neglected its obligation to prevent and mitigate damage.

When considering the amount of compensation to be reclaimed, the amount of the action or neglect on the damage must be assessed. The deliberateness or type of negligence and any other circumstances will also be taken into account.

CC 17 Altering the insurance contract

17.1 Alteration of insurance terms and conditions and premium bases during insurance period

The insurance company has the right to alter the insurance premium or terms of contract during the insurance period to correspond with new circumstances if

- the policyholder or insured has neglected his obligation to disclose information when concluding the insurance agreement
- during the insurance period, a change which has essentially increased the risk of loss or damage has occurred in the circumstances recorded in the insurance contract or policy or reported by the policyholder or the insured to the insurance company upon conclusion of the contract, and which the insurance company cannot be deemed to have taken into account upon conclusion;
- the general conditions changed considerably upon conclusion of the insurance contract so as to increase the risk of loss or damage to the extent the insurance company cannot be deemed to have taken into account upon conclusion.

Having been informed of such a change, the insurance company must notify the policyholder without undue delay of how and as of what date the premium or other terms of contract will be altered.

Policyholders who do not accept the changes have the right to terminate the insurance contract within 14 days of having received information about the change, thus ending the insurance contract on the said 14th day at midnight.

17.2 Amendment to insurance contract or premium bases before the following insurance period

The insurance company has the right to alter the insurance terms and conditions and premiums and other terms of contract at the end of the insurance period.

These alterations will apply as of the beginning of the following insurance period. The insurance company must inform policyholders of any changes no later than one month before the beginning of the new insurance period. The insurance contract continues in its new form unless the policyholder terminates it in writing before the beginning of the new insurance period.

CC 18 Termination of insurance contract

18.1 Insurance contract for a fixed term or a single transit

A fixed-term insurance contract ceases to be effective on the agreed date or the date specified in the insurance contract or policy, unless otherwise provided by these terms and conditions. Unless otherwise agreed, the policyholder may not terminate the policy earlier. An insurance contract for a single transit is limited to the single transit only.

The validity of the policy for individual shipments is detailed in the Institute Cargo Clauses (IC).

18.2 Policyholder's right to terminate continuous insurance contract

Unless otherwise agreed on the period of notice, the policyholder has the right to give written notice of termination of a continuous insurance contract

18.2.1 one month before the end of the insurance period, with the insurance contract terminating at the end of the insurance period.

18.2.2 when the insured property changes owners, with the policyholder no longer needing the policy, and the insurance contract may be terminated on the date of the ownership change.

18.2.3 when the policyholder's business is sold, merged or wound down, there no longer being any need for the policy, and the insurance contract may be terminated on the date of the ownership change.

18.2.4 within 14 days of the policyholder having received information about a change in the terms and conditions or price increase.

18.2.5 30 days after the policyholder was informed by the insurance company about a claim settlement decision.

The policy will be terminated in cases referred to in sections 18.2.3–18.2.5 once the notice of termination has been given or sent to the insurance company.

Any termination of a policy outside the above periods is invalid.

18.3 The insurance company's right to terminate the insurance during the insurance period

The insurance company has the right to terminate the insurance during the insurance period if

18.3.1 the policyholder fails to inform the insurance company about a transit or storage covered by the contract or gives wrong, misleading or incomplete information about any of these, and it cannot be proved that the error or neglect is the fault of any other than the policyholder

18.3.2 the policyholder or the insured has, before the insurance was granted, provided incorrect or incomplete information

18.3.3 during the insurance period, a change which has essentially increased the risk of loss or damage has occurred in the circumstances recorded in the insurance policy or contract or reported by the policyholder or the insured to the insurance company at the time the contract was entered into, and which the insurance company cannot be deemed to have taken into account when concluding the contract

18.3.4 the general conditions at the time the insurance contract was concluded have changed considerably so as to increase the risk of loss or damage to an extent the insurance company could not have envisioned at the time

18.3.5 the policyholder or insured has wilfully or through gross negligence failed to observe the safety regulations

The insurance company has the right to terminate an insurance contract at the end of the insurance period. Notice must be given in writing at least a month before the end of the insurance period.

CC 19 Applicable provisions

Finnish law will be applied to the interpretation of the insurance contract, these contract terms and conditions (IC), with the exception of Additional Clauses to Cargo Insurance (AC) and the General Terms of Contract of the Cargo Insurance (CC).

The Insurance Contracts Act (no. 543 of 28 June 1994) is generally applied with the exception of Chapter 9 and any sections that are not already provided by the insurance contract, the general terms and conditions of the cargo insurance herein, the insurance terms and conditions or any national or international principles applied to the cargo insurance.

CC 20 Appeals

Any complaint about the insurance company's claim settlement decision must be made, on pain of loss of the related right, within one year of the date the party in question received written information on the insurance company's decision and this time limit.

Complaints concerning a claim settlement decision, insurance or insurance contract may be filed in Finland with a court of first instance of the policyholder's or insurance company's domicile or that of the place of loss, unless otherwise agreed. However, disputes over claims based on marine insurance must first be investigated by an average adjuster, serving as the court of first instance (see Act on the average adjuster's specification of claims settlement in marine insurance cases, no. 10 of 1953).

The average adjuster's fee and expenses will be paid by the insurance company, except if the claimant's demand is clearly unjustified. Both the claimant and the insurance company as parties are severally liable for their own expenses arising from the matter.

AC ADDITIONAL CLAUSES TO CARGO INSURANCE AND OTHER COMMON INSTITUTE CLAUSES

The following additional clause are applied to all cargo insurance contracts

AC 720 Institute Classification Clause 01/01/2001 CL 354

Qualifying Vessels

1 This insurance and the marine transit rates as agreed in the policy or open cover apply only to cargoes and/or interests carried by mechanically self-propelled vessels of steel construction classed with a Classification Society which is:

1.1 a Member or Associate Member of the International Association of Classification Societies (IACS)*, or

1.2 a National Flag Society as defined in Clause 4 below, but only where the vessel is engaged exclusively in the coastal trading of that nation (including trading on an inter-island route within an archipelago of which that nation forms part).

Cargoes and/or interests carried by vessels not classed as above must be notified promptly to underwriters for rates and conditions to be agreed. Should a loss occur prior to such agreement being obtained cover may be provided but only if cover would have been available at a reasonable commercial market rate on reasonable commercial market terms.

Age limitation

2 Cargoes and/or interests carried by Qualifying Vessels (as defined above) which exceed the following age limits will be insured on the policy or open cover conditions subject to an additional premium to be agreed.

Bulk or combination carriers over 10 years of age or other vessels over 15 years of age unless they:

2.1 have been used for the carriage of general cargo on an established and regular pattern of trading between a range of specified ports, and do not exceed 25 years of age, or

2.2 were constructed as containerships, vehicle carriers or double-skin open-hatch gantry crane vessels (OHGCs) and have been continuously used as such on an established and regular pattern of trading between a range of specified ports, and do not exceed 30 years of age.

Craft Clause

3 The requirements of this Clause do not apply to any craft used to load or unload the vessel within the port area.

National Flag Society

4 A National Flag Society is a Classification Society which is domiciled in the same country as the owner of the vessel in question which must also operate under the flag of that country.

AC 721 Special Clauses Regarding Vessels, 1 January 2006

Marine Cargo Insurance

Special Terms and Conditions Concerning Vessels

Valid as of January 1, 2006

TLL 06

Clause 1

Qualifying Vessels

1.1 Object

This clause defines

- the vessels that qualify for the shipment of cargo,
- how to make a separate agreement with Pohjola Insurance about other vessels,
- the consequences of the policyholder's neglect.

This clause is applied together with the international Institute Classification Clause valid at the time.

1.2 Qualifying vessels

The insurance is only valid for cargo carried on vessels, which are

- approved by the authorities,
- in first-class condition,
- of steel construction,
- mechanically self-propelled and
- do not exceed 30 years of age.

The phrase 'a vessel in first-class condition approved by the authorities' refers to a vessel, whose classification society is

- a member or associate member of the International Association of Classification Societies (IACS*), or
- a national flag society, but only where the vessel is engaged exclusively in the coastal trading of that nation (including trading on an inter-island route within an archipelago of which that nation forms a part).

The requirements of this term do not apply to inland river vessels or to craft used to load and unload a vessel within the port area.

* IACS members and associate members are listed on the IACS website www.iacs.org.uk

1.3 Agreement about other vessels

Pohjola Insurance must be notified of any cargo carried on vessels other than those specified in section 1.2, i.e. barges, tugs or vessels exceeding 30 years of age, before the start of the shipment, so that the policyholder and Pohjola Insurance can agree on premiums and insurance terms and conditions. Without separate agreement on the insurance premiums and the terms and conditions with Pohjola Insurance, the insurance is invalid.

Clause 2

Additional premiums on vessels exceeding the age limit

2.1 Object

This clause defines

- the consignments which are subject to an additional premium,
- the information the policyholder should submit to Pohjola Insurance,
- the consequences of the policyholder's neglect,
- the amount of the additional premium,
- the grounds on which Pohjola Insurance may reduce or eliminate the additional premium.

This clause is applied together with the international Institute Classification Clause valid at the time.

2.2 Consignments which carry an additional insurance premium

Due to the age and condition of the vessel an additional premium is charged for cargo

- whose total value exceeds EUR 50,000 and
- which is carried on an over-aged vessel, i.e. tramps 16 years of age or more, or liners 26 years of age or more.

Tramps refer to vessels transporting cargo according to separately agreed terms between two or more ports without fixed schedules.

Liners refer to vessels which sail between specified ports on a regular basis. The liners and their type must be identifiable. If the interpretation of a liner is unclear, the matter must be checked with Pohjola Insurance.

The requirements of this clause do not apply to inland river vessels or to craft used to load and unload a vessel within the port area.

2.3 Information to be submitted to Pohjola Insurance

The policyholder is obliged to notify Pohjola Insurance before the start of the shipment of a consignment referred to in section 2.2.

For the inspection of the age and condition of the vessel and invoicing an additional premium, the Pohjola Insurance marine insurance department must be notified of:

- name of the vessel,
- year of construction (the age of a vessel is calculated by omitting the year of construction and subtracting the year thus arrived at from the current year),

- IMO code,
- consignment data,
- insurance value of consignment,
- route and loading time for individual shipments.

The notification must be made in writing and addressed e.g. to the following e-mail: marine.cargoinsurance@op.fi

2.4 Consequences of failure to notify

The policyholder must notify Pohjola Insurance of any consignments referred to in this clause.

If the policyholder has wilfully or through negligence which cannot be deemed minor failed to notify Pohjola Insurance of a consignment referred to in this clause or has provided erroneous, misleading or incomplete information about the vessel or the shipment, the compensation can be reduced or refused.

2.5 Additional premium

The age of the vessel is determined on the basis of the information entered in the most recent register of the appropriate classification society. When calculating the age of the vessel the year of construction is omitted.

The additional premium is calculated as percentage of the insurance value of the consignment to be insured as follows:

| Over-aged vessels | Additional premium % of insurance value |
|---|--|
| • tramps, 16-20 years of age | 0.20 |
| • tramps, 21-25 years of age | 0.40 |
| • vessels 26-30 years of age or more | 0.60 |

No additional premium is charged for liners under the age of 25 years.

Vessels which are 31 years of age or older are priced individually.

In shipments in the Baltic Sea area, including the Danish straits, the Kattegat and the Kiel Canal, the additional premium is half of the original premium.

Individual shipments worth more than EUR 2.5 million are priced separately.

2.6 Reduction or elimination of additional premium

By separate agreement with Pohjola Insurance before the start of the shipment Pohjola Insurance may, on the basis of a preliminary vessel assessment reduce or eliminate the additional premium. Pohjola Insurance may reduce or eliminate the additional premium e.g. on the basis of:

- an inspection carried out less than six (6) months previously and approved by Pohjola Insurance verifying the vessel's condition;
- inspections carried out by the authorities, i.e. Port State Control. Inspection reports can be viewed at <http://www.parismou.org>;
- other reliable information.

 - 8.1.1 as the subject-matter insured enters tanks on discharge to place of storage or to storage vessel at the destination named in the contract of insurance,
- or

- 8.2 If, after discharge from the vessel into tanks at the final port or place of discharge, but prior to the termination of this insurance, the subject-matter insured or any part thereof is to be forwarded to a destination other than that to which it is insured, this insurance, whilst remaining subject to termination as provided in Clauses 8.1.1 and 8.1.2, shall not extend beyond the commencement of such transit to such other destination.

Termination of Contract of Carriage

9. If owing to circumstances beyond the control of the Assured either the contract of carriage is terminated at a port or place other than the destination named in the contract of insurance or the transit is terminated otherwise than as provided in Clause 8 above, then this insurance shall also terminate unless prompt notice is given to the Insurers and continuation of cover is requested when the insurance shall remain in force, subject to an additional premium if required by the Insurers, either

Change of Voyage

10. 10.1 Where, after attachment of this insurance, the destination is changed by the Assured, this must be notified promptly to Insurers for rates and terms to be agreed. Should a loss occur prior to such agreement being obtained cover may be provided but only if cover would have been available at a reasonable commercial market rate on reasonable market terms.
- 10.2 Where the subject-matter insured commences the transit contemplated by this insurance (in accordance with Clause 8.1), but, without the knowledge of the Assured or their employees the ship sails for another destination, this insurance will nevertheless be deemed to have attached at commencement of such transit.

Claims

Insurable Interest

11. 11.1 In order to recover under this insurance the Assured must have an insurable interest in the subjectmatter insured at the time of the loss.
- 11.2 Subject to 11.1 above, the Assured shall be entitled to recover for insured loss occurring during the period covered by this insurance, notwithstanding that the loss occurred before the contract of insurance was concluded, unless the Assured were aware of the loss and the Insurers were not.

Forwarding Charges

12. Where, as a result of the operation of a risk covered by this insurance, the insured transit is terminated at a port or place other than that to which the subject-matter insured is covered under this insurance, the Insurers will reimburse the Assured for any extra charges properly and reasonably incurred in unloading storing and forwarding the subject-matter insured to the destination to which it is insured.
- This Clause 12, which does not apply to general average or salvage charges, shall be subject to the exclusions contained in Clauses 4, 5, 6 and 7 above, and shall not include charges arising from the fault negligence insolvency or financial default of the Assured or their employees.

Constructive Total Loss

13. No claim for Constructive Total Loss shall be recoverable hereunder unless the subject-matter insured is reasonably abandoned either on account of its actual total loss appearing to be unavoidable or because the cost of recovering, reconditioning and forwarding the subject-matter insured to the destination to which it is insured would exceed its value on arrival.

Increased Value

14. 14.1 If any Increased Value Insurance is effected by the Assured on the subject-matter insured under this insurance the agreed value of the subject-matter insured shall be deemed to be increased to the total amount insured under this insurance and all Increased Value insurances covering the loss, and liability under this insurance shall be in such proportion as the sum insured under this insurance bears to such total amount insured.
- In the event of claim the Assured shall provide the Insurers with evidence of the amounts insured under all other insurances.
- 14.2 Where this insurance is on Increased Value the following clause shall apply:
- The agreed value of the subject-matter insured shall be deemed to be equal to the total amount insured under the primary insurance and all Increased Value insurances covering the loss and effected on the subject-matter insured by the Assured, and liability under this insurance shall be in such proportion as the sum insured under this insurance bears to such total amount insured.
- In the event of claim the Assured shall provide the Insurers with evidence of the amounts insured under all other insurances.

Adjustment Clause

15. Claims for leakage and shortage recoverable under this insurance are to be adjusted as follows:-
- 15.1 The amount recoverable shall be the proportionate insured value of the volume of oil lost, to be ascertained by a comparison of the gross volume certified as having left tanks for loading on to the vessel with the gross volume certified as having been delivered to tanks at the termination of the transit, except that where the contract of sale is based on weight and not on volume the amount recoverable may be calculated on a weight basis from such certified quantities.

The term "gross volume" in this Clause 15.1 means total volume without deduction of sediment and water content and free water, except to the extent that the amount of water can be shown by the Assured to have increased abnormally during the insured transit as a result of the operation of a risk covered by this insurance.

15.2 Adjustment shall be made to the calculation under Clause 15.1 above to eliminate any change in volume caused by variation in temperature and any apparent change in quantity arising from the use of inconsistent procedures in determining the certified quantities.

15.3 Where this insurance provides for an excess to be applied to claims for leakage or shortage, such excess shall be deemed to include ordinary loss in weight or volume except when caused by variation in temperature or settling out of water. Where there is no such provision, the amount recoverable in accordance with Clauses 15.1 and 15.2 shall be subject to reduction for any ordinary loss excluded by Clause 4.2 above.

Benefit of insurance

16. This insurance

16.1 covers the Assured which includes the person claiming indemnity either as the person by or on whose behalf the contract of insurance was effected or as an assignee,

16.2 shall not extend to or otherwise benefit the carrier or other bailee.

18. Measures taken by the Assured or the Insurers with the object of saving, protecting or recovering the subjectmatter insured shall not be considered as a waiver or acceptance of abandonment or otherwise prejudice the rights of either party.

Avoidance of delay

19. It is a condition of this insurance that the Assured shall act with reasonable despatch in all circumstances within their control.

Law and practice

20. This insurance is subject to English law and practice.

NOTE:- Where a continuation of cover is requested under Clause 9, or a change of destination is notified under Clause 10, there is an obligation to give prompt notice to the Insurers and the right to such cover is dependent upon compliance with this obligation.
